

SOME OF WAR'S DIVERSIFIED INTERESTS

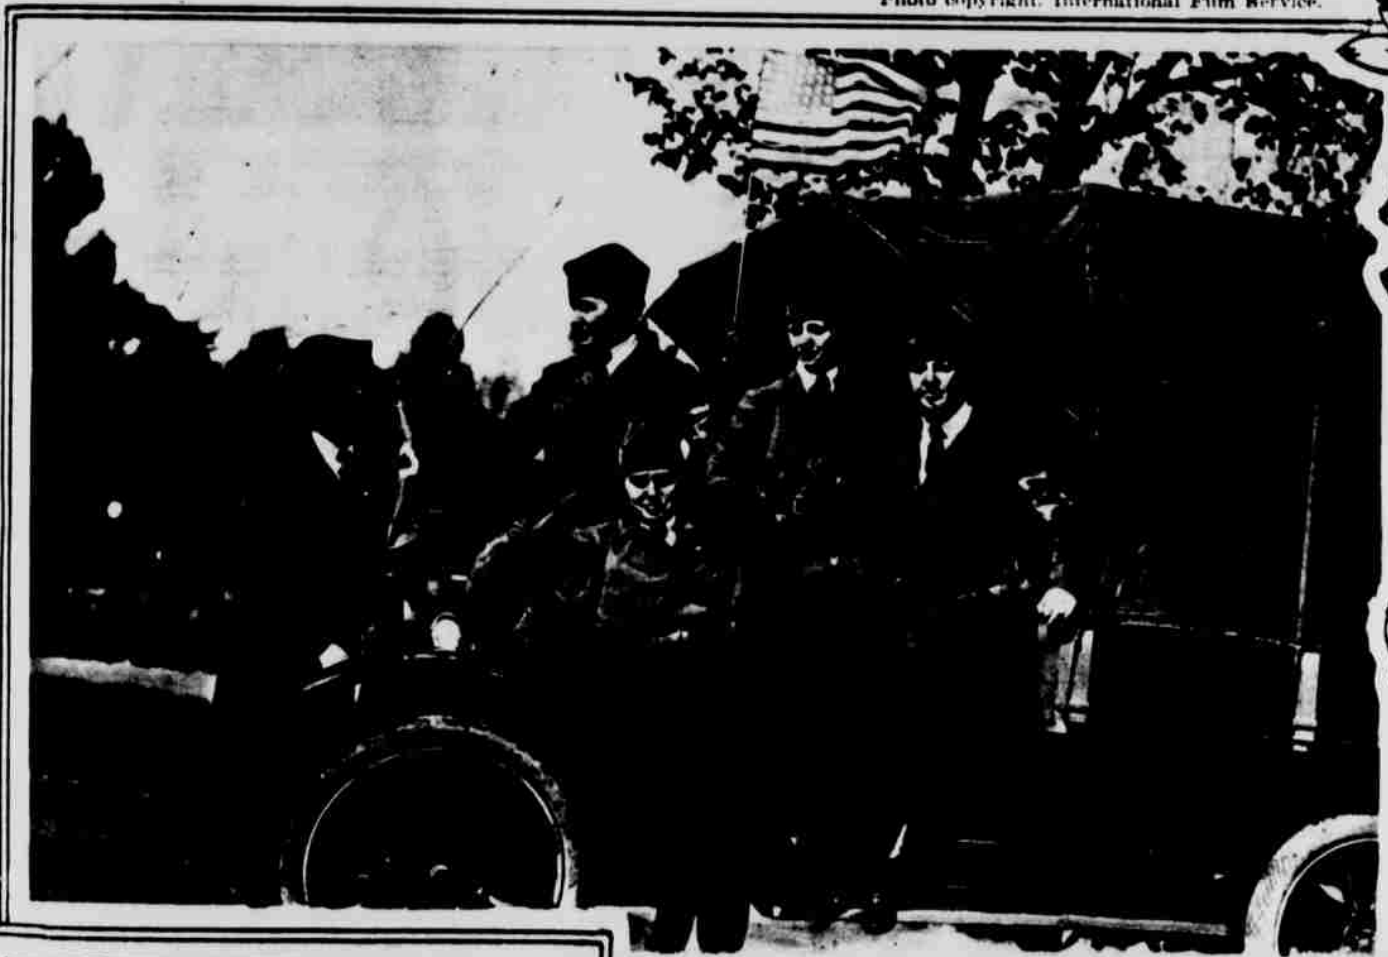

Brig.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, U. S. Army, who commands the recently instituted Department of the Northeast, with headquarters at Boston. Gen. Edwards, in this latest photograph, is shown with members of his personal staff and the commanding officers of the forts defending the Hub.

Photo copyright, International Film Service.

Mme. Paul Ritter, the charming wife of Dr. Paul Ritter, for several years Swiss Minister to the United States, but recently transferred to The Hague.

Photo by Bachrach.

Above—Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, commanding the Red Cross Motor Corps, and some of her captains. Mrs. Harriman is in the centre of the group, and with her are Miss Elizabeth Matterson, Company A; Miss Alice B. Shepherd, Company B; Miss Margaret Fahnestock, Company C, and Mrs. Cary D. Langhorne, Company D.

Photo, Press Illustrating Service.

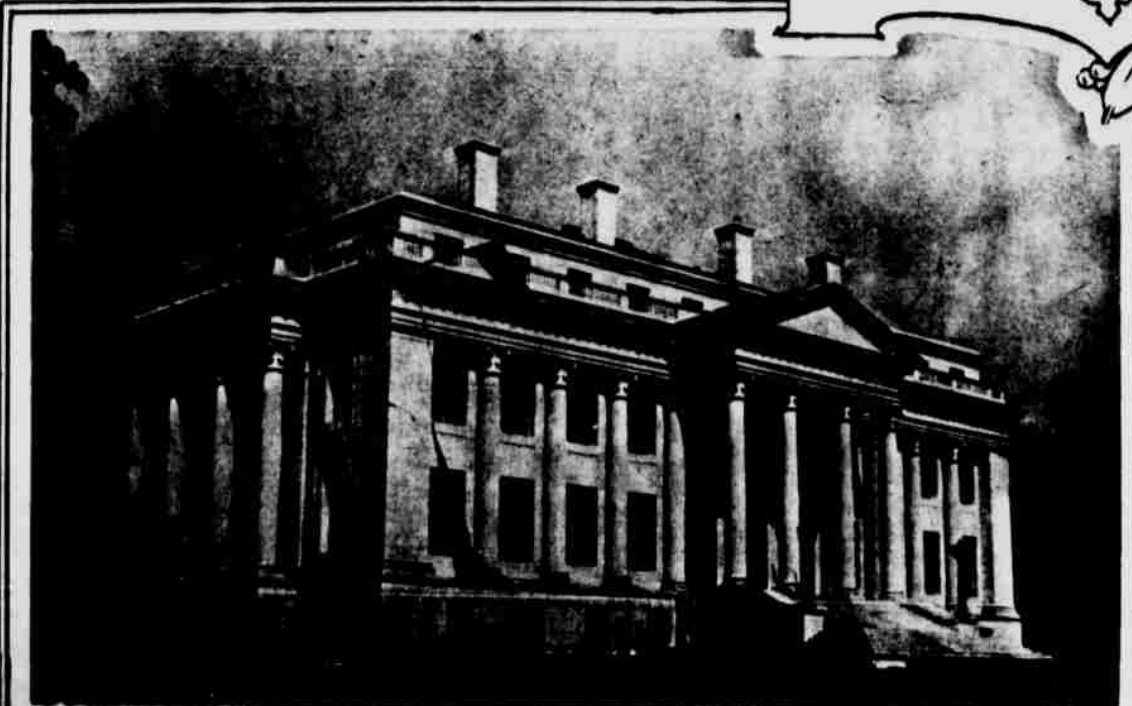

To left—Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co., recently appointed chairman of the Red Cross War Council created by President Wilson. Mr. Davison rightly considers his new work one of great national importance.

Photo copyright, Harris & Ewing.

Major-Gen. J. Franklin Bell, U. S. Army, busy with the problems of the Eastern Department at headquarters, Governors Island. His aid is Capt. G. C. Marshall of the infantry.

Photo by Bain.

The American Red Cross building in Washington, D. C., just finished at an outlay of $800,000. The dedicatory ceremonies took place on May 12. This beautiful structure will be general headquarters for the organization in this country.

Mrs. Laurence Lewis, formerly Louise Wise, very lately married, who has been chosen by her aunt, Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham, to be the ultimate beneficiary of most of the Flagler fortune of $60,000,000. Mrs. Lewis is much interested in war relief work.

Photo by Bachrach.